School Board Serves Community And School

The year 1971-72 was a busy one for the School Board. Along with holding a formal "open house" for the new school facilities in September, and creating a swimming team for the school, they have made plans for a new auditorium to be completed in the future, and have worked on landscaping for the football field and surrounding school grounds to improve BPHS's appearance. The School Board devoted much time to the County Reorganization Plan, a three track program, and a work study program to upgrade the educational benefits of Big Piney.

Administration Governs

A trio of skilled administrators maintained and governed school policies for the 1971-72 school year. (1) Mr. Burl Hoopes acted as the Jr. High Principal, while (2) Mr. John Gallemore served as the Elementary Principal. (3) Mr. Bob Robertson was not only the High School Principal, but was the Superintendent of Schools as well.

School days proved to be an inkling of almost every kind of activity a person could imagine. School is a time for work, a time for molding lifelong friendships, a time for fun and relaxation, a time for anxiety, joy and sorrow, and a time for love. Serving as a stepping-stone for further accomplishments, BPHS is a sturdy foundation for later life.

Annual Staff

The officers for the Annual for the year 1971-72 were: Editor--Laurie McGinnis, Assistant Editor--Becky Lawrence, Secretary--Jean Nielson, Business Manager--Marilyn Wright, Photographers--Larry Vickrey, Tim McGinnis, Stan Brause, Mary Stahl, Staff--Ranae Murphy, Julene Shorma, Pam Boe, Jim Hiarston.

This year, the Annual Staff was extremely concerned with putting out a newer, more elaborate annual for you. We realize the nostalgic value of a yearbook, and we wish to make the record of the year 1971-72 a most memorable experience.

Since money is a determining factor in any creative situation, we busily sold annuals, ads, and lots of candy in order to accommodate the expense of the added attractions you see on the annual's pages. Because of our successful sale campaigns, we were able to initiate several new techniques, including color pages and mosaic layouts.

We would like to give special thanks to Mr. Burnham, our sponsor, for all his excellent help and cooperation in making this yearbook a success. We would also like to give special thanks to Mr. Stewart for his assistance with the photography.

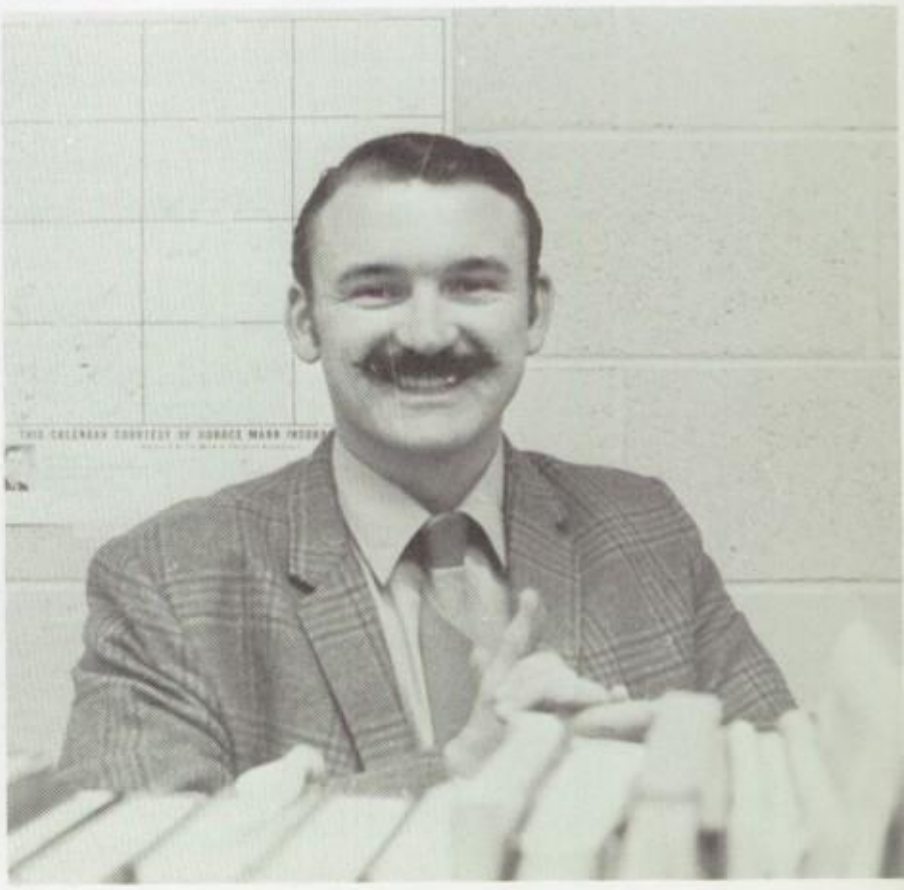
Unlike past years, the staff of PINEY PROFILES spent an entire year experimenting with student and faculty likes and dislikes. Several new columns were added, including "Poisoned Pen Propaganda," which served as a student dissent voice, and "Student In The Spotlight," which featured a short biography on the more outstanding members of BPHS. The members of the Paper Staff and their sponsor Mr. Phil Quink are to be commended for their fine efforts for the school in the year of 1971-72.



Student Council Has A Successful Year

The Student Council, under the leadership of President David Wilkerson and our sponsor, Mr. Graham, has been primarily concerned with instituting beneficial changes for the student body this year. Their newest responsibility was the maintenance and care of the Student Lounge. They also changed the plans for the Annual Christmas and New Years Dance. Committees for the up-keep of the school and cafeteria were formed and have made many new suggestions.

Industrial Arts Accommodates New Features And Ideas

This year, as in the past, a large number of students signed up for shop classes, ranging from preliminary Drafting to Advanced Electricity to Auto Mechanics. Once again, Girls' Shop was offered, and it proved to be one of the more successful classes in the entire high school.

In April, five boys, accompanied by Mr. Franklin Stewart journeyed to Casper, Wyoming for the Annual Trouble Shooting Contest. Tom Bancroft and Tracy Olson participated, while Jim Porter, Scott Manser, and Ed Bollinger observed the event.

After a grueling series of hard work and determination, the Punchers greatly increased their winning potential for the 1971 season. The fine display of teamwork and the enthusiasm of the fans, attributed a great deal to the Punchers' will to win.

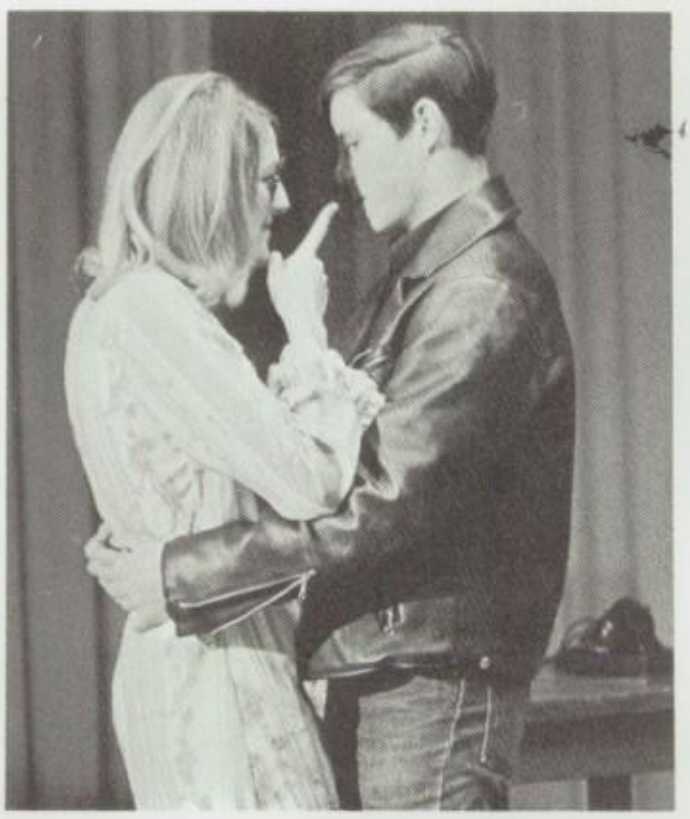
Junior Class Presents

Dino

Dino was a complicated young man, who at the age of seventeen had just completed a four-year sentence in Reform School. Upon returning home, he finds it hard to cope with his old way of life. Dino's parole officer realizes something must be done before Dino becomes a full-fledged criminal. Through his efforts Dino is launched on the path to self-understanding which made the Junior Class Play of 1971-72 a great success.

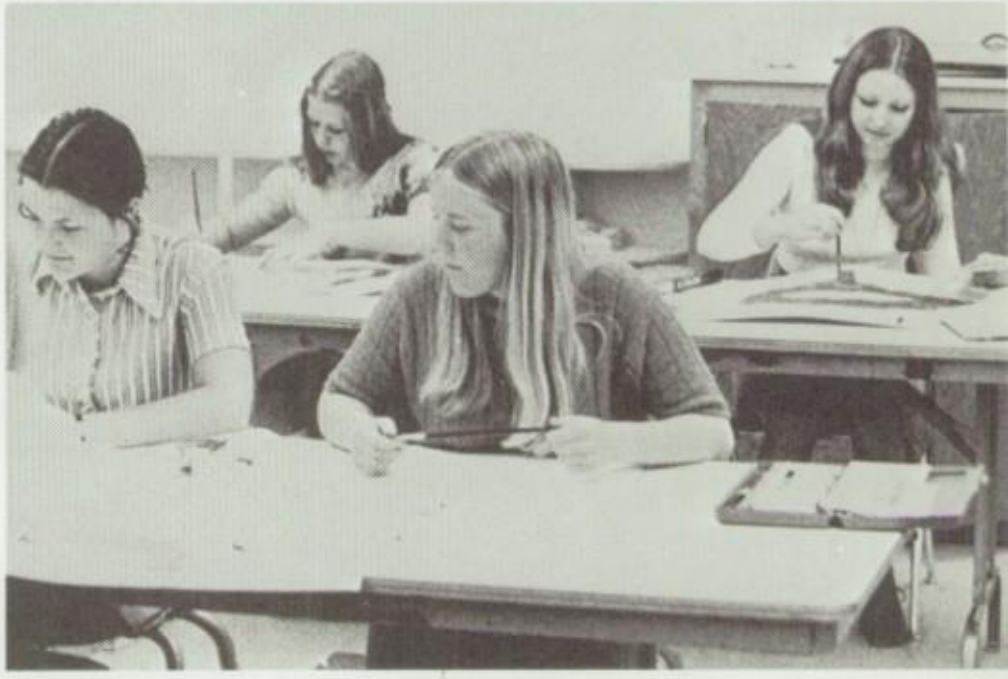


You Can't Take It With You Is A Smash

This was a story of a family with each member doing his own thing. The family is presided over by grandpa, who thirty-five years before had decided it was no fun to work so he just quit. Alice, the youngest daughter, falls in love but doesn't know how to present her somewhat unusual family to the affluent parents of her beau. The comical solution of this problem made this play the most successful ever to be presented by Big Piney High School.

Art Department Exhibits Talent

This year the art class was opened to all high school students and was primarily a fine arts class. The students worked with water colors, acrilics, pastels and created their own designs. The students also aided local organizations by making posters and decorations in order to inform the public of school activities.



Speech Club Rates Superior Honors

The Speech Club, under the sponsorship of Mr. Rex Burnham, once again made fine showings throughout the competition they encountered during the year. The majority of the speech participants were in the superior category and many of these students were first time members.

Homecoming Thrills Student Body

(1) King Mike Bury and (2) Queen Connie Holgate reigned over the 1971 Homecoming festivities in September. Their court comprised of (3) Louann Tomassi and Solon Murdock as second attendants and Becky Iverson and David Wilkerson serving as first attendants.

After an exciting action packed afternoon of gridiron combat, the victorious Punchers and exuberant fans returned to their homes to prepare for an evening of relaxation and dancing to the impressive vibes of the "Leaves of Grass."

The Homecoming parade and floats added much nostalgic value to BPHS Homecoming memories. (1) The Sophomores Coca Cola Can and "It's the real thing" show the simplicity, yet dynamic impact of a Puncher Man. (2) The Juniors put their culinary talents together and with the help of Campbell's ask, "Is it soup yet?" (3) Raspberry, wintergreen, or regular, the Freshmen's Copenhagen can undoubtedly attributed to the Puncher's smashing victory over Cokeville. (4) While King Mike Bury and Queen Connie Holgate greet the throngs of fans, (5) the Seniors pull their first place float into the spring parade line-up.

This year, as in the past, many Jr. High students turned out in their red and white finery to cheer the Rustlers on to victory. Led by two squads of cheerleaders, their main objective was to create massive enthusiasm and indeed, they were quite successful.

An extremely talented group, the Jr. High Band completed many musical accomplishments for 1971-2. Among other programs, the Band presented a major portion of the annual Winter Band Concert, and also co-hosted a Jr. High Interschool in Big Piney in May.

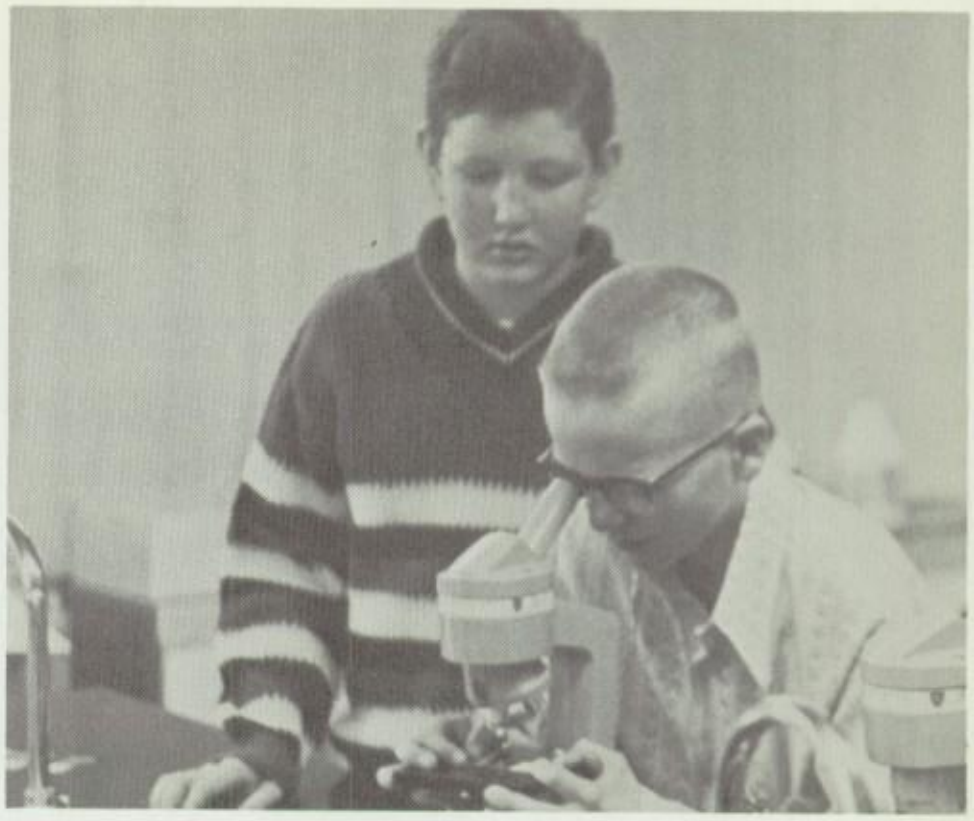
Jr. High Choir Develops Talents For Future High School Years

The Choir under the direction of Mrs. Ernest Northway had a record number of members. This was undoubtedly the reason for their many successes throughout the year, including a fine presentation at the Christmas Program, and at the Two Junior High Interschools.



Junior High Science Rates State Honors

In April, several Jr. High Science students were honored after many long months of preparation at the State Science Fair in Laramie, Wyoming. Mark Grinestaff placed first in the Physics division and won first place in the over-all competition for the Junior division. Debbie Moyor won second place in the Math division and Janet Budd won an army award for her project.
